Get Special Train For Boston Game

A special train will be chartered by St. Michael's the week-end of Feb. 26, 1949, when the Purple basketball team travels to Boston to meet the Boston College Eagles in the Arena.

The trip will be a package deal, according to Athletic Director George "Doc" Jacobs. There will be one flatrate charged to each person making the trip. It will include the cost of the train ticket, the basketball game ticket and the hotel room. "Doc" hopes to keep the cost under $15.

This special event is not restricted to St. Michael's students. Anyone wishing to take advantage of the three-fold trip is urged to contact Jacobs immediately for reservations.

The St. Michael's - Boston College hoop duel will be the first game of an Arena twin-bill. Holy Cross' great quintet tangles with the Boston University Terriers in the nightcap attraction.

For the same price, a reserve seat ticket to the Ice Follies that Saturday night may be inserted in place of the basketball game in case there's anyone who doesn't want to cheer.

Did You Know?

Bennie Borgmann is now holding down his first college coaching job.

Delta Epsilon Sigma Names Top Scholars

Seven St. Michael's College seniors and two of her most distinguished alumni have been honored by election to Delta Epsilon Sigma, the national Catholic honor society.

The seniors who were elected by the St. Michael's College chapter, Alpha Nu are:

NOTED ALUMNI

The alumni are: Hon. James Manahan, Sr., former mayor of St. Albans, Vt., president of the People's Bank, collector of customs, a trustee of St. Michael's, and former committee chairman in the Vermont Legislature. His son, James Manahan, Jr., also a St. Michael's alumnus, now on the faculty at St. Anselm's College, is a chapter member.

Atty. Barrett Carmody, of New York City, a native of Fair Haven, Vt., now secretary to Justice Church of the New York Supreme Court, twice alumni association president, a former commencement speaker, a graduate of St. Michael's high school and college before he became a Knights of Columbus scholar at Catholic University.

He was graduated from Georgetown law school and did advanced work at Columbia University. He was an assistant corporation counsel to the city of New York and formerly was secretary to Justice Phoenix Ingraham.

Announcement of the election was made by Rev. William J. Cain of Shelburne, president of the chapter. Father Cain said the induction would be held at St. Michael's on Jan. 25 and that a nationally known scholar would be the speaker.

In the past, election has been during commencement week, but this year it was decided to honor the seniors before their departure.

College Placement Bureau Has Plans For Expansion

Although some students may be fortunate to have a position waiting immediately after graduation, most college men must hunt far and wide before finding the post college job. Of particular interest to these seekers is the existence of a Placement Bureau here at school. It is open only to seniors but all should be acquainted with it.

The purpose of the Placement Bureau is to locate positions for the Graduating student and direct him to them. Such a bureau is important in that it tries to point the graduate toward the career for which he has been preparing during his college days.

The St. Michael's Placement Bureau was started last year under the direction of Mr. Thomas Garrett, the Registrar. It was then, and as yet, remains limited in scope, but with a definite program aimed towards greater expansion.

This year the Placement Bureau is under the guidance of Fr. Hebert. Any senior desiring information may obtain it from him at the Bureau office in Aquinas Hall, second floor.

The college works hand in hand with the Veterans Employment Service and the Vermont State Employment Service in guidance and placement. These agencies contact all establishments in Vermont in an effort to stimulate hiring of college graduates.

Employers who do have opportunities are shown the qualifications and records of the students who are interested in and qualify for such positions. Arrangements for an interview between the employer and the student are handled through the Placement Bureau.

PLAN EXPANSION

At present, most of the contacts are in Vermont, with some out of state arrangements also. But plans are being formulated so that in the near future opportunities offered in establishments

Air Corps Offers Grads Commissions

The opportunity for pilot training and a career as an officer with the United States Air Force which is open to qualified college men will be explained to St. Michael's men on Dec. 9 and 10 by a special Air Force Aviation Cadet Team, Lt. Col. Robert E. Guay, First Air Force Aviation Cadet Procurement Officer, said today.

Married or single, 20 to 26½ years old, and physically fit, with two or more years of college, will have the opportunity to provisionally qualify for the flight training immediately when the traveling Aviation Cadet team meets here at Austin Hall, Lt. Col. Guay said. The team is headed by Maj. Ben M. Terry and is one of several which is visiting colleges throughout the country.

Men who volunteer and are accepted for pilot training with the Air Force will receive their basic training in Texas, Lt. Col. Guay said. Successful Cadets will be given their pilots' wings and commissions as 2nd Lieutenants in the Air Force Reserve after only 12 months of training. They will go on active duty immediately upon graduation

Blanche Yurka

To permit all to hear Blanche Yurka Saturday at Austin Hall, a matinee has been added at 2:30. The evening show of her "One Woman Theater" is at 8:30.

Frosh Skit Night Variety Displays Newcomers' Talent

Five hundred saw the Class of '52 present the Frosh Skit Night in Austin Hall last Tuesday evening.

Jerry Kennedy, capable master of ceremonies, kept the evening rolling at a smooth pace. He had his hands full with Jack Terrenzini, the man with the wheelbarrow. Terrenzini after dumping the wheelbarrow in front of the Very Rev. Daniel P. Lyons, college president, got up on the stage and sang with the barber shop quartet.

TELEGENIC TEETH

Al Hannoosh narrowly escaped death from loss of blood when he was the victim of the singing barbers. Hannoosh had a close shave that drew buckets of blood. (Heinz's best).

To Bob Sullivan went the honor of having one of the most popular and certainly the most unusual act of the evening. Sullivan could have a great future in television. The pre-med played the "William Tell Overture" on his teeth and almost ran out of encores.

A song and dance routine by the "Andrew Sisters," played by John Shanahan, Ed O'Hagan and Henry Wasak, received a great deal of appreciation from the audience.

OTHER FINE SKITS

Stan Strzempko, with his accordion and Bill Cofrancis, with his clarinet, were excellent. They had filled in for the college band when they failed to show up in Austin Hall for the reception to Father Lyons. At

AS OTHERS SEE US

This quiz, reprinted from The Michaelman, Nov. 22, 1947, grades you as a hermit or as an ideal dorm companion. If you answer "no" to at least 11 of these questions you're a pretty fair roommate. If you answer "no" to 13 to 17 it means you are a wonderful companion, but if you answer "no" to more than 17 you don't belong in college.

And then, on the other hand, if it is below nine, we suggest that you become a hermit.

1. Do you lose your temper easily?
2. Do you sulk?
3. Do you talk too much?
4. Do you read out loud?
5. Do you sing too much?
6. Do you gossip?
7. Do you fail to consider his likes and dislikes?
8. Do you expect to be included in his invitations?
9. Do you brag about your work, friends, or social companions?
10. Do you rely on your roommate for amusement?
11. Do you talk too much about your heart interests?
12. Do you always talk about your troubles?
13. Do you ask questions about personal matters?
14. Do you always try to be the boss?
15. Do you share his interests?
16. Do you lack respect for your roommate's privacy?
17. Do you play the radio continuously?
18. Do you take the best drawers and hog the closet space?
19. Do you litter the room?
20. Do you neglect cleaning up after a party?
21. Do you forget to pay half of mutual expenses?

Roamers

The Michaelmen who spend their afternoons roaming the corridors of Old Hall two could put an end to the unnecessary racket. The ping-pong champions in the room under the class rooms are also too loud.

It is almost impossible for the professor and the students to concentrate on their classes with all the clamor from above and below the classrooms.

The students who are not in class should have a little consideration for their fellow Michaelmen.

Snack Bar Progress Reported By Buchan

Although no exact date can be given, the work is moving along on the new snack bar. That's the word from John Buchan, superintendent of buildings and grounds. Chief holdup at the moment is the arrival of equipment.

The carpenters have been banging away in the back wing of Austin Hall for the past few weeks. As of now, the work is still in the rough stages. The new refrigerator has been moved in and the soda fountain is nearly ready. Work was started last week on the rear entrance.

On opening day which should be early in December, a representative of the Camel company will be on hand to pass out samples which were eagerly gobbled up last year. Bill Hanlon, new steward, will supervise the running of the new snack bar.

DIRECT COMMISSIONS

Aviation Cadet classes begin three times a year ... on March 1, July 1, and October 15, and the top men in each class receive direct commissions in the Air Force. All graduates have the opportunity to apply for regular commissions during their active duty tours.

Only men who meet the high Air Force standards will be accepted, Lt. Col. Guay pointed out, because of the necessarily high level of intelligence and physical fitness required to operate modern military aircraft. On its visit the Aviation Cadet team will be prepared to administer all preliminary examinations to flight-training applicants. Those who meet the requirements at that time need only take the final physical examination and complete an interview later before being finally accepted.

HILL WIND

John Medrek and Chub Helfrich

This week we have chosen a current and highly-controversial topic for the students of St. Michael's whether they be veteran or non-veteran and with the position of present world affairs, its concernment is a certainty.

QUESTION:

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF HAVING AN ROTC PROGRAM AT ST. MICHAEL'S?

BOB HARRINGTON
SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

It would be a good institution as it would give the draft-age fellers a good military background and a better chance at obtaining an officer's commission.

JIM DURKIN CLINTON, MASS.

Best idea presented this year. It seems to me that it would serve a threefold purpose.

1) Increase of interests in world affairs.

2) Physical as well as mental development.

3) Financial aid to students.

My preference would be a Naval Unit to complement the Army Unit at UVM. Anchors Aweigh mates.

JOHN WEINMAN HUDSON, N.Y.

It is a good idea, as it will be advantageous to both sides, the Army will get trained officer material, and the student in return the chance to obtain that officer rating in the Army.

JACK SCULLY HASTINGS, N.Y.

It would seem to me that such a program here at St. Mike's now would only be another step in line with those who say that war is inevitable. Let's keep St. Mike's a school where we are educated to live!

TOM MARKETSON BROOKLYN, N.Y.

The inauguration of it would be a good idea especially with the University of Vermont ROTC Unit there would be some keen competition held in drilling and rifle events.

DICK SPILLANE
STATEN ISLAND, N.Y.

A Naval ROTC would be my choice as it would help mold the character of the students and the adequate position of Lake Champlain would furnish an excellent opportunity to put into practice what they have been learning in class.

JOHN O'HALLORAN BOSTON, MASS.

I don't believe that an ROTC Unit would go hand in hand with the scholastic schedule here at St. Michael's.

GERRY RECORE CHURUBUSCO, N.Y.

A very good idea, I think that it would improve the discipline and spirit of the school and would be of invaluable assistance to the students in later life.

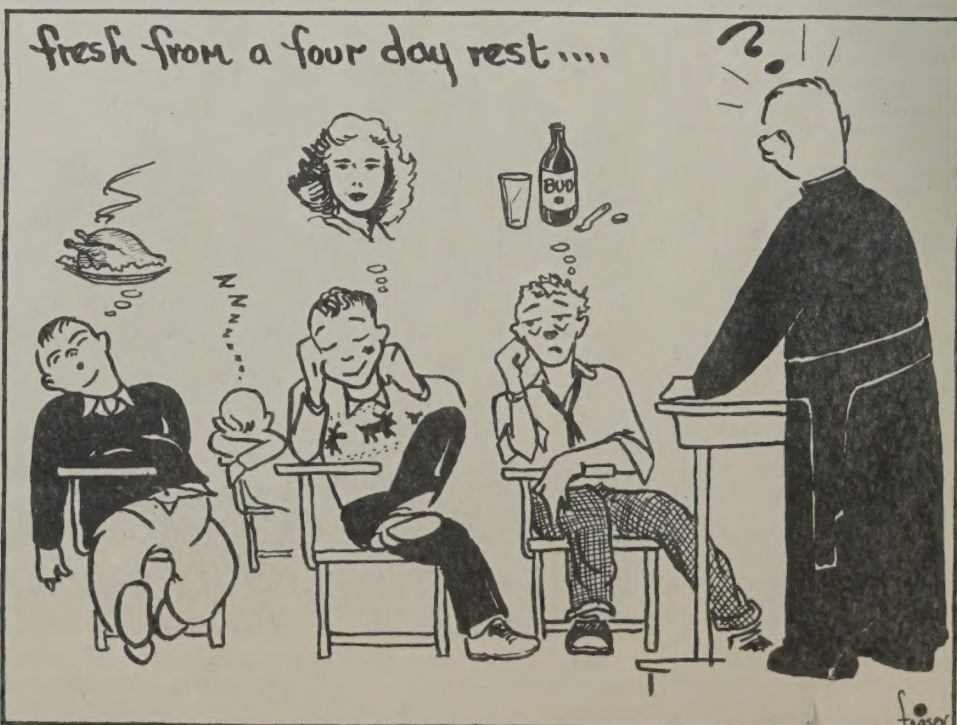

JACK JENNISON PAWTUCKET, R.I.

St. Michael's is a small Catholic College and that is precisely my reason for attending, my desire is that it will remain in such a status and as for those desiring a partly military education can receive same by attending a school with such facilities.

FOR ART'S SAKE

By FRASER

Tony Cauley

By the time we return from our Thanksgiving vacation, Coach Bennie Borgmann should have the varsity basketball squad pared down to the 15 men he reportedly will carry throughout the season. At first, we heard that only 12 men would wear varsity colors this year, but a very reliable source now has Coach Borgmann holding on to fifteen players. This latest development would seem more logical, because of the abundance of material at the disposal of the coach. As of right now, eighteen men are left, and Coach Borgmann must really be burning the midnight oil trying to decide on whom he will keep. It is our contention that any of the present eighteen could play first string anywhere else in the state.

With the opening game against Champlain only ten days away from this writing, Coach Borgmann has stepped up the tempo of varsity drills. Like football mentor Doc Jacobs, Borgmann believes that the vices of an athlete should never run past chewing gum, and an occasional movie. He also "requested" the squad to forsake their Thanksgiving holiday in favor of a few intensive workouts in the college gym. We can see now that basketball is strictly business on the Mikemen campus from now on, and in view of the rugged schedule facing the Knights, we say all well and good. Basketball, more than any other sport, demands perfect physical condition, and nobody realizes this more than Coach Bennie Borgmann.

To stray away from the local sports scene for awhile, let's take a look at the football picture throughout the nation. We see that three of the country's powerhouses, namely Michigan, California, and Clemson kept rolling their merry way, while two other teams that sport unblemished records, Notre Dame and Army stayed idle in preparation for their games with Navy and Washington. Penn. State, who also had an undefeated and untied season, fell victim to an inspired Pittsburgh eleven 7-0. That must have been a bitter pill for the Penn. State squad to swallow, because up to that day, Pitt. had done practically nothing.

Even though we have seen some excellent football by the big schools all season, there seemed to be something missing. It was an annual affair for the last thirty odd years, before the authorities at the U.S. Military Academy decided to call a halt starting this year. Of course, it was the traditional battle between Notre Dame and Army. The grid season just didn't seem complete without the meeting of these two clubs in Yankee Stadium. With shades of Cagle, Meyer, Miller, Bertelli and many more to enrich the tradition covered tilt, it became probably the most popular single sports event in the country. Everyone took sides in the Notre Dame-Army game.

Many good reasons have been advanced as to why Army called the series off, but the one we think closest to the truth, is that one which stated that Army got sick and tired of getting beat. Except during the war years, Army had been taking it on the chin for a good ten years. Maybe if Coach Red Rlaik knew about the powerhouse he had coming up this year, he wouldn't have been in such a hurry to call it quits. However, according to all reports, it will be at least two more years before we can again watch the Irish and Cadets in action on the same field.

Speed Skating Team Getting Into Shape

With the coming of winter the Speed Skaters of St. Michael's are already looking ahead to their first meet and victory, they hope, at Dartmouth's Winter Carnival.

Relying on last year's very fine record, the skaters are contemplating a win over Toronto, McGill, Dartmouth, and a few other, - at this time - probable meets. Though the team is on its own it will be guided by St. Michael's College.

NCAA HOPES

As conditioning is a main link in any team, the "speedsters" will be seen out there, with the hockey team ironing out those kinks and getting off faster starts.

An addition to the team this year will be the hope of being placed on the NCAA basis.

This will entitle them to any meet they so desire plus special privileges which they now lack. After last year when the "speedsters" came out second at the McGill Winter Carnival and third in the Dartmouth Carnival, the team is much wiser and all the more experienced.

Inspired by that active little manager, "Hank" McGinnis, the boys - Paul Morin, "Andy" Scanlon, Bob Flynn, Vin Morin and Don Beauchemin, will be out there speeding their way to victory and with them go our luck and best wishes for a clean and unblemished season.

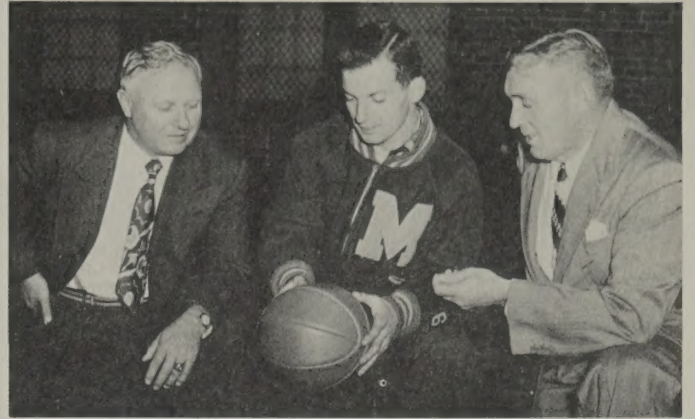

All Opponent Team Named By Gridsters

Three UVM and three Devens gridsters were named to the St. Michael's College all-opponent eleven, according to Athletic Director and head football coach, George "Doc" Jacobs, following a vote of team members.

The Purple Knights, who were scored upon for only fifteen points in a five and two season, also named two Champlain men, two American International College men and one Norwich man to the all-star array.

Selected were: Santangelo, Champlain, 1e; Manittas, AIC, 1t; Lait, Norwich, 1g; Bruce, Devens, c; Bazer, Devens, rg; Cook, Vermont, rt; Ursprung, Vermont, re; Nagle, Devens, back; Provenzano, AIC, back; Hurley, Vermont, back; Drugan, Champlain, back.

Basketball Schedule Opens With Champlain Here Thurs.

Frosh Open Season The Hard Way

Steve Guter's Squires are opening their season the hard way, with two games in as many nights, December 9 and 10.

A week from Thursday the Frosh raise the curtain on the 1948-49 campaign when they take on the Burlington YMHA at the Memorial Auditorium in the prelim to the Varsity's New England College game. The next night the freshmen meet Rutland Jr. College at Rutland.

Nine of the yearling's 15 tilts are scheduled as home games. Only two will be played in the school gym. The rest will be preliminaries to the Varsity games in Memorial Auditorium.

Last winter's Squires suffered their only defeat in 13 games at the hands of the Clarkson Frosh in the undersized Clarkson gym, always difficult for visiting teams. The tilt was postponed once when the Squires' bus was unable to negotiate the drifts between Burlington and Malone.

HOME AND HOME

This year the Squires have scheduled a home and home series with Clarkson.

The schedule: Dec. 9, Burlington YMHA, home; Dec. 10, Rutland Jr. College, away; Dec. 16, Burlington YMCA, home.

Jan. 12, Vermont, away; Jan. 15, Middlebury, away; Jan. 22, Burlington YMCA, at Winooski; Jan. 29, Norwich, home; Jan. 31, Rutland Jr., home.

Feb. 5, Vt. Jr. College, home; Feb. 9, Norwich, away; Feb. 16, Vt. Jr. College, away; Feb. 23, Clarkson, away.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE MICHAELMAN

Frosh Hoopsters Aiming High, Guter Coaching Classy Squad

While most Mikemen were passing their plates for another helping of holiday turkey last week, 15 freshmen were passing the basketballs and pounding the gym floor.

With less than two weeks remaining before the Squires' opener December 9 against the Burlington YMHA at home, Coach Steve Guter sent his freshman squad through extra drills all Thanksgiving week.

Out of 63 original candidates, only 15 survived Guter's ax.

The freshmen this year will play a cautious game, working on the theory that possession is not only nine tenths of the law, it's also nine tenths of basketball. Guter is a firm believer in Coach Borgmann's idea that the other team can't score while you've got the ball.

SHORTIES

Unlike last year's talented team, this winter's edition of the Squires will not be especially gifted in the height department. Instead Guter is relying on the team's youth and speed to help it through a 15 game schedule.

Guter's only previous hoop coaching experience was handling the 13th Infantry team in Germany, although he has had plenty of playing experience.

Debating Team Holds Own In Tourney

By JOHN LAWRENCE

Maintaining the outstanding record of last year's Newman Club, the St. Michael's debating team held its own in the debate tourney at the University of Vermont last weekend.

The Newman Knights, coached by Professor Murphy and represented in the tournament by Don Powers, Frank Reagan, Bernie Duffy, John Burke, Larry LaFountain, and Don Fredricks, made quite a satisfactory showing as they stood up against the University of Maine, Hamilton College, Rensselaer, Rutgers, and Champlain.

The topic of debate was, "Resolved, That The Federal Government Should Adopt A Policy of Equalizing Educational Opportunities in Tax Supported Schools by Means of Annual Grants."

The two outstanding teams gained an average of six out of a possible eight wins. Powers and Reagan, of the varsity affirmative team, topped a total of three rallies out of four.

Duffy and his colleague Burke, both on the varsity negative team had two wins out of four debates. The novice division, though not yet as formidable as the varsity section, shows a good deal of promise.

AID DEBATORS

The whole purpose of the Debate Tourney was to aid each individual debater in perfecting his method of approach and his style of delivery. This was accomplished by judging more from the view-point involving constructive criticism, than in choosing the winning teams.

Professor Murphy disclosed that the Newman Club plans to organize a freshman squad which, if possible, will go on a circuit of debates similar to that of last year's varsity teams. The latter, it should be remembered, won seven out of eight debates on tour throughout several New England states.

Freshman Thespians Top Interclass Competition

The freshman class won the annual interclass play competition this week under the direction of a classmate who was one of the first to enroll at the St. Michael's College Drama school two years ago.

Offering "When Shakespeare's Gentlemen Meet," the freshman class won the silver cup for the best performance, for the best direction, by Edward O'Gorman of Bradford, and for the best supporting performance by Roland Peloquin of Woonsocket, R.I. Vin Lawless was the best individual actor.

The Freshman and Sophomore entries to the interclass "one-act" play competition were run off last Thursday night, November 18th, at Austin Hall before a representative student and faculty audience.

The Freshman production, Charles George's comedy "When Shakespeare's Gentlemen Get Together" was featured first under the direction of Ed O'Gorman and Dennis Scanlon with Fr. McIsaac as moderator, while Eugene O'Neill's drama, "Ile" followed with Hank Thompson and Dick Wall taking directorial honors. Fr. Dube was their moderator.

Roland Peloquin as Shylock, Clarence Spain as Romeo, and Howard Lancourt as Hamlet, led an admirable cast through the Frosh Shakespeareanics.

In the Soph sea story, stellar honors belong to Vin Morin, Martha Warner and Dick Wall. Miss Warner, presently with the Theatre Club Inc., of Burlington and formerly of the Albany Blackfriars' Guild, was importantly cast in the Sophomore play.

Completing the Frosh cast were: Barney Thompson as Petruccio, Al Castellana as Othello, and Tom Lambert as Anthony, while stage manager, Bob Sullivan; costume director, Bob Murch; and lighting technician, Don Sullivan also contributed. Don Garrity, Bob Sauer and Charles Flanagan were responsible for other roles in the Soph play, which was staged by Tom Ferrara.

There were also a few stars in the audience last Thursday. Fr. Purtill, Superior General of the S.S.E. and Fr. Lyons, our president, were there.

The Juniors and Seniors rang down the final curtain of the interclass play competition last Monday, November 22, and though the Seniors were cited, it was the Freshmen who won the silver cup award on three counts.

The play "When Shakespeare's Gentlemen Get Together," director Ed O'Gorman and Roland Peloquin, who played Shylock, took honors for the Freshmen and Vin Lawless, playing the title role in "Lucifer at Large," was the credited Senior, when the Knights and Knaves' four-way presentation ended.

Fr. Dupont, one of the judges, announced the awards while Mrs. Eileen McGinley, who received her M.A. at St. Michael's and is now dramatic coach at Trinity and professor of English at U.V.M., and Miss Katherine Garney, who teaches at Winooski High, were also judges.

Also noted for their efforts in the senior morality play were: Lon Bernard, John Healy, Fred Jones, Bob Billups, co-director, Lindley Jackson; music director, Jim O'Donnel; and lighting technician, John Soltys. Other production staff credits belong to stage manager, Jim Spillman; associate stage manager, Walter Fitzmaurice; wardrobe manager, Charles McCarthy; house manager, Lon Marceau; and make-up man, Ralph Glande. Fr. Tining was the senior moderator and Mario Marini and Lon Denault were ushers.

The farce "And The Villain Still Pursued Her," directed by Lawrence Nuccio, was the well received junior play which starred Chuck Callova, Bob Lilly, Bill Diegnan, Joe LeMay, Bill Acton, Paul LaPointe, Walt Coon, and Paul Heinig. George Rodden gave the piano background, Don Gibbons handled the script, and Paul Mitchell staged the plays for which Fr. Paulin was moderator.

Frank Nolan, senior class president last year, sang several selections for intermission entertainment.
